Why They Beg Newspapers.

Begging newspapers seems to be one of the occupations of Gotham's small boy, and according to one of these urchins a good revenue is derived from the business. The practice is known as "Canada business." A gang of eight or ten boys besiege the entrance to the bridge and elevated road every morning and keep an anxious eye on all persons carrying newspapers. They stretch out their arms asking for the newspapers and often pull them out of the hands of passers by.

The "newsies" are very persistent, and occasionally get into little snarls with dyspeptic persons who get down town in bad humor. The temper of these people might be intensified did they know that, according to a confession of one of the boys, a newsdealer of a speculative turn of mind originally put the boys up to the practice for no low. If the newsies are so much soiled to sell the boys turn them over to the speculator, who holds them in reserve, paying the boys a pittance and then realizing full value by handing them over to the respective newspapers as "return" and getting copies of the current date for them.

The youngsters have learned his method though, and most of them do their own "returning" as well as "begging" now. The practice is bad every way, as it is fast converting the little hustlers into indolent beggars.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

"All's Well That Ends Well."

The Scotch, with unconscious absurdity, sometimes talk of "tempting Providence." In writing "All's Well That Ends Well," Shakespeare was "tempting" the higher criticism. Ever since the days of Zenodotus in Alexandria the higher criticism has revealed in "atheizing," or marking as spurious, this part of an author's work because it is "unworthy of him," that part because it is "not in his style," a third portion because it is a repetition of something he has said elsewhere, and so on, till in Homer there are four lines to which some German, or some Alexandrian Greek has not urged objections. To similar exercises of idle ingenuity has "All's Well That Ends Well" been exposed.

When Lucian met Homer in the Fortunate Islands, he asked the poet which of the rejected passages were really his own. "A" and every one of them," answered the shade; and Shakespeare's ghost might have made as inclusive a response to critical inquiries. Yet "All's Well" is certainly a play full of difficulties and enigmas. It was first printed in the folio of 1633, and very badly printed it was. None of the dramas contains so many passages that appear to be corrupt; none so rich in the unintelligible; none so open to conjectural emendation.—Andrew Lang in Harper's.

Crafty Master Fox.

A fox was one day seen coming out of a pile of stones near the water side. He hid in the heather for awhile and then pushed out something on the water, which proved to be a bunch of moss. The wind took it into the middle of the lake and it past some ducks sitting on the surface. Having watched his venture for perhaps ten minutes with apparent satisfaction, and observed that it neared the ducks without arousing their suspicions, our friend began to collect another and larger bunch of moss, which he allowed to float in the same direction, but this time he swam behind it, taking care to show only his eyes and nose above water. Just as it was passing the group of ducks he made a sudden dive, pulled down a bird and swam back to shore under water. Arrived there he carried the duck to the pile of stones, where his wife and daughter were no doubt waiting to enjoy the fruits of his labors.—"Forty-five Years of Sport."

It is estimated that all the money paid in Philadelphia for July interest and dividends will exceed $10,000,000.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION

something distasteful in this insect to the feathered world, and thus the species is preserved, for if it were not so, lightning bugs would soon become extinct, as the torch they carry would only serve the purpose of attracting their enemies.

It may be that the uncanny appearance of the insect, giving forth as it does a brilliant flash of light every movement or two, deters birds and bats from attacking it, but if a lightning bug were to a toothsome morsel to a bird's bill, a number of the feathered world would soon overcome their repugnance to the little living torch and go hunting for lightning bugs.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Paying Women the Same as Men.

The school board of St. Paul has abolished the distinction of sex in the matter of salaries. Hereafter the women teachers will receive equal pay with the men. In establishing the schedule of future compensation for the teachers of the high school and the manual labor school no sex distinction is made. Hereafter it will be purely a question of capacity, individuality and efficiency. The schedule adopted reads:
Grade 3—First year, $850; second year, $1,000; third year, $1,100; fourth year, $1,200.
Grade 2—First year, $1,000; second year, $1,100; third year, $1,200; fourth year, $1,300; fifth year, $1,400; sixth year, $1,500.
Grade 1—First year, $1,000; second year, $1,100; third year, $1,200; fourth year, $1,300; fifth year, $1,400; sixth year, $1,500; seventh year, $1,600; eighth year, $1,700; ninth year, $1,800.

Thus, no matter whether the teacher be man or woman, the salary for the same service will be identical.—Boston Woman's Journal.

Animal Wisdom.

In moving to a new place of residence we found on the premises a large cat which had been left there by the former occupant. She was not of the real domestic kind, but lived principally in the barn, occasionally venturing into the house to obtain her food. On one occasion, much to the surprise of my wife, she came up to her and nuzzled several times, turning each time toward the door leading to the barn. This she repeated until Mrs. N. was induced by curiosity to follow her, when she led the way to a barrel half full of straw, up the side of which she climbed, all the time mewing and looking at my wife, and there were five kittens, cold and dead. Mrs. N. remarked, "They are cold and dead, pussy," and the cat went away satisfied.

She would sometimes scratch the children, and was so fearful she would seriously injure them, and one day I said in her presence that "I would shoot her." She was missing for about six weeks, and of course I had then "got off the notion."—Forest and Stream.

Looking for Fruit.

A couple of months ago a Philadelphia woman bought a rustic table made of the boughs of some trees from which the bark had not been removed. SILVER PARTY TICKET.
FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS:
HON. THOMAS WREN,
Of Eureka.
HON. M. S. BONNIFIELD,
Of Humboldt.
HON. C. C. POWNING,
Of Washoe.
ALTERNATE ELECTORS:
HON. GEO. S. NIXON, Of Humboldt.
HON. GEO. BROWN, Of Storey.
HON. W. J. WESTERFIELD, Of Lyon.
A MULTIPLICITY OF PARTIES.

There are six political parties in Texas, exclusive of the Prohibitionists, which have quite a following. These are the straight Democrats, the Alliance Democrats, the People's party, the straight Republicans, the white Republicans and the Independent colored party. Ordinarily the straight Democrats have a majority in the State, but this year it is claimed the People's party will have a plurality, if not a majority. As the Harrison men, who are relying on partisan prejudice to get men who favor free coinage to vote for a Wall street candidate for President, deny that any Southern or Western State will vote for Weaver and Field, as proof that they may be greatly mistaken they are referred to the election recently held in the Ninth Congressional District of Texas to elect a successor to Roger Q. Mills. This district was carried by Mills in 1890 by 16,347 majority, and now it is represented by a People's man, who voted for free coinage when the Stewart bill came up in the House of Representatives two weeks ago.

In Nevada, as in Texas, there will probably be a multiplicity of tickets this year. There is the Silver party, which is already in the field with three Presidential electors, and a prospect of the largest majority ever given to any party in Nevada. Then there are the Prohibitionists, who have nominated a State and county ticket. The silver wing of the Democratic party has a part of a State ticket nominated, and the Cleveland faction of the party will, according to report, nominate Presidential electors, and possibly a Congressman. The Republicans are also arranging for one or two tickets. There are the Harrison men, who notwithstanding their professions of friendliness to silver, like the Cleveland men, prefer party success to State prosperity, and will support a Wall street candidate for President, and last, but not least, the wing of the party which care nothing for Harrison, but want State or local office, and see no chance to get it save through the party organization, and therefore do not want to antagonize the silver party by nominating Presidential electors.

Taken all in all the political situation here is as interesting as it is in Texas or anywhere else, but the Silver party holds the key to the situation, and cannot be defeated unless the people prove false to themselves and lose sight of the fact that the only issue involved in the campaign that concerns Nevada is the free coinage of silver, and the only candidate on a free coinage platform is General J. B. Weaver, the nominee of the People's party.

WHY THEY WEAR THE BLOODY SHIRT.

Some two weeks ago the organ of the Harrison-Cleveland Reno committee raised the bloody shirt, and figuratively speaking, trembled for the safety of the Union because a Confederate soldier had been nominated for Vice President. The item caused considerable comment among people who knew that it emanated from a Cleveland source, and speculation was rife as to the cause of its publication. Now the secret is out. Cleveland has hopes that if the election goes to the House he may be chosen President, but the Senate being Republican would doubtless elect Reid Vice President. To prevent this the Cleveland men are endeavoring to prejudice people against Field and get pledges from coalition electors to vote against him and for Stevenson for Vice President. Trickery of that kind will not succeed in Nevada, however, as the people recognize the fact that the war ended over twenty-seven years ago and that the present battle is with Wall street, against which the South and West are united.

The Bay City, Mich., fire did clean work. Within the burned locality, where had stood three hundred buildings, not a house was left standing, while every shade tree was stripped of foliage and left blue. The principal part of the city is two miles distant and was not injured. The houses destroyed were occupied by the poorer classes.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Mason, in his report for the fiscal year ended June 30th, says: "The total collections of internal revenue were $153,837,543, an increase of $7,522,128 over the previous year."

Will any of the Harrison-Cleveland combinations state how they expect to obtain free coinage if they vote for men who are opposed to free coinage?

SAM DAVIS BEHIND THE BARS

Forty Conductors Arrested for "Knocking Down."

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Work Progressing at Homestead.

PITTSBURGH, July 28.—The Carnegie Company has prepared a scale for the Union mills and Beaver Falls plant, which the new men or former men who return will be required to sign. The wages will be the same as the Amalgamated, but no association will be recognized. At the Homestead plant the force is being steadily increased. An Associated Press representative went through this morning and found fully 700 men at work. Three heavy plates were rolled before his eyes, and seemingly with ease, the work being specially directed toward naval contracts. Superintendent Potter says they have all the laborers and yardmen they want, and that it is astonishing how rapidly some of the new men are learning the work which the strikers asserted could not possibly be done by even skilled workmen, because they had no knowledge of the machinery.

Frick's condition is favorable. The counsel for the strikers stated this evening that the proposed suits against Frick, Potter and Lovejoy for conspiracy have been abandoned, but nothing would be done until Frick recovers. The police do not expect any more arrests of Anarchists at present.

Sam Davis Jailed.

CANSON, Nev., July 28.—This afternoon the Grand Jury of Ormsby county was called to investigate the charge of malfeasance in office, made by the Appeal, against the county officials. One charge made by the editor of the Appeal was that the parties obtaining contracts were obliged to pay commission to the county officials. Sam Davis, editor of the Appeal, was called upon to state the source of the information, but declined on the ground that it was the unwritten law of the profession that confidential communications to editors were held inviolate. He was given until half past one by Judge Rising to reveal the name of the informant and again refused, whereupon he was ordered to jail until he should decide to reveal his authority. The sheriff took him into custody.

Sam Davis is now out of jail, L. Stevenson, the party who gave him the information, having come forward and released him from the obligations of secrecy.

Stevenson, who was brought before the Grand Jury and asked to testify regarding the commissions demanded by the county officials, declined to testify on the ground that it would incriminate him.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—A resolution for a select committee of five to investigate the Geological Survey doings was agreed to, and a Committee for the Territories of New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, and Oklahoma and inquire into the propriety of their being admitted as States.

The House joint resolution for final adjournment Saturday was laid on the table, as Allison thought it unwise to consider the adjournment resolution until the Sunday Civil bill passed.

Jones of Nevada from the Committee on Contingent Expenses to-day reported a resolution for the appointment of a select committee of seven Senators to investigate the recent labor troubles of Pennsylvania and Idaho and also a resolution for a select committee of four to visit the forest reservations in California and inquire into the rights of bona fide settlers there. It was agreed to. Felton, Kyle and Morgan will constitute the Committee.

Sisson, July 28.—Shortly after 2 p. m. a fire broke out in the Nicholas Bottling Works which were completely destroyed. A strong south wind was blowing and the flames spread rapidly. Knight & Sons' grocery store adjoining, is a complete loss. Mason's stable, directly opposite, soon caught and was entirely consumed. The dwellings on the right, occupied by John Stewart, J. Price and Mrs. Jordan were also destroyed, as well as the dwellings on the left of the stable.

Here the fire was checked by blowing up a saloon 100 feet distant. John Sullaway's residence and other houses were also destroyed. For a time the town was in imminent danger, but was saved through the exertions of the firemen and citizens. The heaviest losses were G. D. Nicholas, loss $8,000, insurance $6,000; Knight & Sons, loss $8,000, insurance $4,000; J. S. Sisson & Co., loss $23,000, insurance $10,000. The total loss will exceed $50,000.

A Murderer Suiocides.

OSAGE CITY, July 28.—Charles Wilson, the murderer of Mamie Walst, committed suicide at 2:30 p. m. by hanging himself in his cell. He removed the bandages from his broken arm and hanged himself with them. He was discovered by the other prisoners, but life was extinct when the officers reached him.

Conductors Arrested for "Knocking Down."

PORTLAND, July 28.—About forty conductors on the Metropolitan and Multnomah electric street car lines were arrested this afternoon for "knocking down." G. B. Maske, President of both companies, said: "We have known for a long time that we were being robbed right and left by our employees. Some six months ago we commenced to gather evidence against the suspected men, and we find that we have been losing on an average of $4,000 a month through the dishonesty of our employees. We now have evidence most conclusive against ten men."

Will Assist in the Prosecution.

SOME, Idaho, July 28.—United States District Judge Beatty will arrive here tomorrow. Application will probably be made then to release the Cour d'Alone rioters on bail. The time for the hearing of the contempt proceedings against the prisoners has not been fixed, though the warrants are returnable next Thursday. E. B. Crowthwaite, special agent of the Department of Justice, has been instructed by Attorney General Miller to assist District Attorney Wood in the prosecution of the cases.

Granted a Reprieve.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—United States Circuit Court Judge McKenna to-day refused to release murderer Bruggs, who is sentenced to hang in Sonoma county, and remanded him to the custody of the sheriff of that county. The Judge, however, announced that he had received a telegram from Governor Markham stating that he would grant Bruggs a thirty day reprieve, so that the United States Court of Appeals could decide the case.

Will Take Issue With the Amalgamated Association.

PITTSBURGH, July 28.—It is reported to-day that Jones and Laughlin of the American Iron Works had decided to take issue with the Amalgamated Association. The works are among the largest in the country and employ 3,500 men. B. F. Jones, the principal owner, is ex-Chairman of the National Republican Committee.

More Bodies Found.

ST. LOUIS, July 28.—The death list of the Mill Creek sewer explosion was increased to-day when the body of Clemence C. Kreibitz, a liquor dealer, was found. This evening another body was picked up on the river bank below the mouth of the sewer. On the body was a bank book bearing the name of A. J. McOlellan.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The House Judiciary Committee decided to take further testimony in the Homestead affair, and Powderly has been summoned before the committee.

Antidotes for Snake Venom.

Snake bites are always dangerous and should be attended to as soon as possible, as the venom spreads very rapidly, particularly in warm weather. The following recipe is perfectly reliable and, being simple, is easily obtained. Take an onion and cut it crosswise and hold one half of it on the wound until it turns green. Apply persistently and the onion will finally draw out all the poison. Many old woodsmen will not be without several onions at certain times of year when in the woods.

The old white haired dandy that first gave me this recipe has spent the best portion of his life in the swamps, where the rattlesnake, copperhead and other deadly reptiles abound, and he assured me he has never known it to fail. A strong ligature should be tied tightly above and below the bite to prevent the poison spreading through the system. Copious draughts of brandy should be given freely. A little ammonia taken internally is very good also. The above simple remedy is equally as good for bees as for man.—Richmond Times.

Chinese Weddings.

The chief incident in a Chinese marriage is the arrival of the bride in her bridal clothes before the house of her chosen one. This is a de facto fulfillment of the contract. The wedding day is determined by the parents of the groom. The imperial calendar names the lucky days, and on such days the so called "red celebrations" take place, both in the city and country. The same bridal clothes may be used several times. That the chief part of a Chinese marriage is the arrival of the bride at the house of the groom is illustrated by the fact that the groom is often married without being present at their own wedding. It is not believed to be fortunate to change the wedding day when once decided. If the future husband, therefore, happens to be called away on the wedding day the marriage takes place by sending the bride to his house.—Exchange.

Caught a Partridge on the Fly.

A Deering Nimrod tells a good story of a recent adventure with a young partridge. These chickens of the woods are noted for the cunning and guile with which they disappear from the intruder to the blinders into their covert; but in this particular case one of the flock upon being scared up by the dog flew directly toward the hunter. The latter, seeing the young partridge coming, held up his hands and caught it as he would a ball. The little creature was much terrified at first, but immediately regained confidence, so that when the hunter put it upon the ground it stood contentedly a moment eyeing the hunter and then leisurely hopped away.—Portland Press.

Exercise and Blood Circulation.

The circulation is controlled mainly by the action of the heart. When the activity of this organ is increased, therefore the general circulation will be improved. Now, the heart is stimulated to action by the presence of blood in its cavities, and muscular exercise, by hastening the flow of venous blood, will be instrumental in sending more fluid through them in a given period of time, and consequently in stimulating the organ to increased activity.—Dr. J. M. Rice in Popular Science Monthly.

COLORADO FOR THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

The Silver Convention, composed of over five hundred delegates from Silver Leagues in all parts of Colorado, met at Denver and went over in a body to the People's party of Colorado. The two parties will put a joint ticket in the field and sweep the State. The people in many of the States are thoroughly aroused, and with irresistible force are disrupting the old parties and sweeping the spoilsmen and bosses out of the way. The People's party is enlisted for the war, and with the miners, farmers and industrial classes generally in its ranks will soon be in the ascendancy in a majority of the States, as it is certain to be in Colorado and Nevada.

London Women of Rank Out Driving.

Lady whips are more plentiful than ever in the Lady's mile. A pair of horses is the custom, though many neatly turned out things, drawn by a single animal, look very well. No one drives better than Lady Carzon. Countess Grosvenor comes near her in skill and Lady Brooke is perhaps equal, but she cannot be excelled. Among morning pedestrians are often seen the Countesses of Romney attired in her favorite dark red and the Marchioness of Downshire in black and white.—London Star.

Patent Grave Marker.

The expense of a funeral in a large city has grown to such proportions that the average man commits more extravagance in the cost of dying than he ever did during life. It has been suggested that a much less costly form of grave-stone than usually erected would meet all the requirements of affectionate remembrance and respect, and the suggestion has been carried into effect in the patenting of a "grave marker." This is simply a memorial leaf. It consists of two outer plates bent so as to form a holder for leaves or tablets, adapted to be suspended from a frame to receive and retain objects desired to be kept as mementos of the deceased.

The tablets beneath the outer plates can be designed in any desired form, and as they have slides of mica or transparent material to protect the tokens any object such as photographs, sketches, etc., can be inserted. For instance, a sketch of the life of the departed or a portrait or a lock of hair can be placed in the receptacle, where it is securely protected from the weather, and as it is covered by mica it will last for many years without bleaching or decaying.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, it tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the systemic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—looked three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced."—GEORGE A. PAON, Watertown, Mass.

General Weaver was presented at Denver with a silver pen with which to sign the free coinage bill when he is elected President of the United States.

In Central and Eastern Nevada miners and farmers contend that a vote for Cleveland or for Harrison is a vote for hard times and deserted mining villages.

The Elko Independent very tersely and sensibly remarks that the way to get the free coinage of silver is to support men who favor it, not those who oppose it.

The stockholders of the Reno Real Estate and Investment Company will meet tonight at the office of the First National Bank for the purpose of adopting by-laws.

District Attorney Julien received a letter from Colonel R. H. Lindsay yesterday stating that Judge King had been seriously ill, but at the time of writing was somewhat better.

There was a political convocation held in Virginia City to determine whether the Republican primaries should be open to Silver Leaguers or confined exclusively to Harrison men.

A rousing ratification meeting was held at Tascara Monday evening. Bonfires blazed, the band played, speeches were delivered and the streets resounded with cheers for Weaver.

Immigration more than holds its own this year, the arrivals during June having been 73,120, against 69,317 in the same month last year, 353,961 for the first half of 1892, as against 325,307 for the first half of 1891.

The Chronicle says the freak of a man charged with Cornstock whiskey was to set fire to the north end of the Union trestle near the Catholic cemetery yesterday. The fire was extinguished without any damage being done.

Dr. Kase and family have arrived from Texas on a visit to B. W. Stewart of Paradise Valley. The doctor says the State of Texas is ablaze with enthusiasm for Weaver and Field, who are certain to carry it by a large majority.

A People's party club has been organized in Truckee, and the Republicans say fully two thirds of the voters of the town are in favor of Weaver. The club proposes to charter a car and come to Reno next Wednesday to hear General Weaver speak.

Ores from the Caledonia mine, near Eagle Creek, Humboldt county, brought here by Dr. Hanson, were sampled by H. H. Clark at the Reno Reduction Works with very satisfactory results, as they carry gold and silver in paying quantities.

Kate Grant, the daughter of a former official of Storey, dishonored at betrayed by J. W. Kelly, a Bodie mining superintendent, has been committed to the Napa (California) Insane Asylum. The girl's father shot and severely wounded Kelly some time ago.

THE HELENA SCHEME.

What a Silver Leaguer Thinks of It
LOVELOCK, July 25, 1892.
ED. SILVER STATE:—The National Mining Congress at Helena proposed a plan of action for the silver states which seems to merit discussion. Even the assertion of the Reno goldbug, that the plan is indefinitely preferable to the Silver party, is not corroborative.

The plan is set forth in the resolutions quoted below, and its beauties were further unfolded in some of the speeches of the Chairman of the Congress. It evidently requires as much explanation as those twin silver planks adopted at Minneapolis and Chicago:

WHEREAS, It has been the endeavor of the opponents of free bi-metallic coinage to secure the selection of candidates for the Presidency by the national Republican and Democratic parties, who will, if elected, oppose the will of the people by the executive veto whenever Congress shall express its in a free coinage bill.

"Endeavor" is good; but why not tell the whole truth and say that the endeavor was successful?

WHEREAS, To vote for electors pledged in advance to select either one or the other of the two free coinage candidates, will be an advancement in advance of the purpose of defeat the popular will.

The portion italicized is "an anchor to windward" to prevent the Congress from drifting over to the People's party.

WHEREAS, In the silver States there is but one sentiment in all the three national parties in regard to the full remonetization of silver.

Resolved, That wisdom and patriotism both require that the people of the silver States and the State conventions of all parties therein shall so shape their action as to secure the balance of power, if that be possible, in the electoral college, to the end that the electors selected by the people of such States may so not independently in the electoral college as to defeat the election of any man as President who will not agree that the will of the people as expressed in relation to silver shall stand without executive interference or veto.

The details of the plan are as indefinite as the hope of any good result from it.

Does the resolution mean that the people and State conventions of all parties should join in nominating one electoral ticket, or does it mean that a number of electoral tickets should be nominated, all with one object?

The duties of electors after election are a little better defined; apparently they are expected to bully and whine and trade to defeat candidates for President, who will not agree to certain conditions.

Nothing is said about electing any candidate, but after defeating all but one they might elect him.

The plan proposed is an insult to the intelligence of the silver men. They are asked to sell their votes to a candidate so mean as to surrender his principles and betray his political and financial friends by becoming an ally of the enemy. A man who won the Presidency by such treachery would rank in history as a political Benedict Arnold.

There is a simple, honest plan for silver men to follow, and that is, "To vote for a free coinage man on a free coinage platform." Such a plan needs no apology nor long winded explanation.

SILVER LEAGUER

A LIVELY SCRAP.

Last evening about 6 o'clock a lively scrap occurred in front of the Grand Central Hotel. There were three strangers who came to town recently, and were spoiling for a fight. They all claimed to be "scrapers" from the west. They got just as much of a load on as they could carry—and three drunks more—and wanted to run the town.

They gathered around the Grand Central and made insulting remarks, and dared any one to come out and fight. One of them lay right across the sidewalk obstructing the passage, much to the annoyance of passersby.

Tim O'Keefe, who is in charge of the Grand Central, told the man to get off the sidewalk. He refused and Mr. O'Keefe then picked him up and placed him out on the road. This made the man angry and he called O'Keefe every vile name he could think of. O'Keefe, knowing he was drunk, paid no attention to him until the fellow jumped him, and then O'Keefe struck back.

For the next ten or fifteen minutes things were lively. O'Keefe had the best of the fight and threw his man down. The "prize fighter" then got Tim's fingers in his mouth and almost bit them off. He also closed his teeth on O'Keefe's face. His two partners were with the "prize fighter" and encouraged him in the following words: "Bite his fingers off," "Kick him where he lives," etc.

They were finally parted, but no arrests were made.

AN EDITOR IMPRISONED.

Sam Davis Sent to Jail for Contempt.

S. P. Davis of the Carson Appeal was imprisoned for contempt of court yesterday. He stated to the Grand Jury, now in session at Carson that he had been informed by a citizen of Nevada that he had paid a county official $160 as a bribe to secure contracts. The jury requested Davis to give the name of his informant, which he declined to do, and he was committed by Judge Rising for contempt. Davis was judged while in jail by his informant, who gave him permission to give his name to the jury, which he did, and was then discharged from custody. Sam was non-committal and would have remained in jail until the jury was discharged had not his informant released him from his obligation to keep his name secret.

Our local fishermen made some good catches last evening. Matt Parrott caught three and one half pounds just above the dam. The largest weighed one pound and a quarter. J. E. Shannon caught twelve fine trout in the Truckee just below Mr. Newland's place. The largest weighed two and one half pounds.

NEVADA AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION.

The Woolly Aphis of the Apple.

Newspaper Bulletin, No. 2.
The Nevada Agricultural Experiment Station is about to issue its bulletin No. 17 which treats in popular language of the woolly lice which infest the bark and roots of the apple tree.

This is a seasonable bulletin inasmuch that it appears at a time when the insects are abundant; and in consequence when there is a general demand for information regarding them. The bulletin is not lengthy, contains several illustrations representing the pests and some of their insect enemies, and enumerates remedies, which, if properly applied, will serve to keep the insects within seriously injurious numbers.

The aim of the bulletin is to explain the nature of these insects and such remedies as will control them with little expense.

The woolly aphids are provided with slender sucking beaks with which they pierce the tender bark of the tree and withdraw the nourishing sap from those parts which need it most. In limited numbers these lice could do little or no harm, but when they appear in countless myriads, the truth of these being "strength in numbers" soon becomes apparent. Young grafts, new growths of stems and leaves suffer most perhaps, from the bark form of the aphids. Those infesting the roots cause knotty swellings to appear upon them.

The sap drawn from the roots causes the tree to become sickly and finally die without apparent cause. This has been termed the American Blight.

The attack upon the roots is the most injurious to the tree, as it is apt to become far advanced before the nature of the disease is known, and because the application of remedies is more difficult in cases of this form than it is of those affecting the bark.

For these reasons preventive measures against the root form of the woolly aphid become most effectual when the form affecting the bark are kept so reduced as to prevent their spreading to the roots.

Remedies for the bark form are found in the use of kerosene emulsion, tobacco decoction and carbolic soap ends.

The best remedy for the root form is bisulphide of carbon, the fumes of which penetrate the soil about the roots and kill the insects with which they come in contact.

This bulletin may be had by anyone wishing it on application to the Agricultural Experiment Station, Reno, Nevada.

T. K. Stewart returned Wednesday afternoon from Plumas county, California, where he was on a surveying expedition. He says there are three surveying parties along the Feather river, and they will locate the San Francisco and Salt Lake railroad in that section before they quit. Mr. Stewart learned from them that by tunneling a short distance through a ridge between two branches of the Feather river they will have an easy grade from Sierra Valley to the Sacramento Valley.

Republicans and Democrats in Elko county as elsewhere are jealously for Weaver and free coinage. The Independent says C. B. Leedick of Lamolle, a staunch Republican, and W. B. Clayton, Sr., of Mound Valley, who is a Democrat all over, is disgusted with Clevelandism and will support Weaver and Field.

"Sure, mum," was the frank reply, "I can't be after aggravatin' me mind this hot weather."—New York Times.

Ancient Superstitions.

The ancients peopled all distant lands with monsters and all distant seas with horrors. Unknown and distant countries were, to their superstition, peopled with "gorgons, hydras and chimeras dire." The distant seas were filled with monstrous dragons and serpents, of which the sea serpent is today, perhaps, a survival. The unknown oceans were filled with whirlpools that sucked in mariners, who were sacrilegious enough to approach them, to an awful death.

Perhaps these superstitions, as much as any one thing, kept the world for so many centuries an unexplored and unknown waste.—Yankee Blade.

A Ready Reply.

Foot's ready reply to the caution, "Your handkerchief, sir, is hanging out of your pocket," was of high merit, both from the surprise and for the cordial way in which the caution was accepted. "Thank you, sir; you know the company better than I do."—Gentleman's Magazine.

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown,

Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give her relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief." G

A WOMAN.

Ah, she is of our thought and time. And was a yagmely loath to trace Through nights of variant age and clime Her birthright, in the name of race. Amid the tumult of our days, Thrilled with the fire of hope and dream, She treads in fearless ways the ways That men had sought and trod supreme. With gladdened eyes she faces, and none Shall shock her warm, uplifting soul That sees afar some shining goal Like the new glory of a sun. She feels the exultant sense of life, And battles in the blood of strife; Where men have climbed, her hands shall reach; What men have taught, her tongue shall teach; Sees struggle, bold in mind, Fertile in fresh expedient, strong To hold her right against the wrong. To seek what others dare not find, She stands unswayed, unbowed, unbent, The mistress of her high intent.

Yet she is but a woman still, Who weeps as only women weep, Who loves as only women will, And reaps her joys as women reap; Who mends, in his sacred stir, Is the inviolate part of her; Whose charm is not of man, but blown Like the wild rose, all her own. Sweetheart and flower of fruitful years, Time cannot change her smiles and tears, Time cannot rob her of the grace Which burns like love light in her face.—George Edgar Montgomery in Frank Leslie's.

A Ventriloquist Abroad.

"There was a very mad conductor on the eastbound train the other night," said John D. Paterson, a Kansas City man. "The car was crowded, and I shared my seat with St. Louis drummer, who went on having a good time at the expense of his fellow passengers. As the conductor came along a dog under our seat began to snarl viciously. The conductor looked hard at the drummer. 'No dogs allowed in the coaches,' he said. 'Not my dog,' replied the drummer, as he made a vicious kick. The cur went howling under the seats the full length of the car. The passengers became interested. The conductor, porter and brakeman made search for him. He continued to run and howl. The passengers joined in the search, but no dog could be found, and the quest was finally given up. 'Just as the passengers had settled into a doze the dog set up a heart breaking, ear piercing howl. The search was renewed, but without success. As we pulled into Bunker Hill the dog got under the wheels, and his death song was something appalling. The conductor was overjoyed. He got off and looked for fragments of the dog. The drummer called all aboard, and the conductor called all aboard, and put down his grips and filled that train from engine to sleeper with dog fights. He was a ventriloquist. The conductor was so mad that he forgot to take up tickets for forty miles.'—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Doctored Its Own Tail.

A small boy gave a lesson in natural history the other day. He brought into the office a species of lizard popularly known as the "swift." Holding the little reptile above his head he let it fall to the floor, with the result that a section of its tail was broken off. Noticing that it was minus a part of its prehensile organ, the swift, after discovering the piece of tail lost, backed slowly up to it, and placing the stub against the piece, held it in contact for a few seconds, and then ran swiftly away with his tail glued together, apparently as sound as ever.

A New Element in a Mineral.

It is reported that a new element has been recognized in a mineral found in Egypt by Johnson Pasha in 1890. This mineral, first called "Johnsonite," but afterward merric, consists mainly of aluminum with sulphuric acid. It dissolves in water and yields on treatment with sulphuric hydrogen in an acetic acid solution a white precipitate, from which a pure hydroxide was prepared.—New York Journal.

She Did and She Didn't.

When you save a lady from being killed in a runaway and she says "Thanks," she really means, "The next time you do anything of that sort please don't mess the lace on my dress." If she really felt any sense of gratitude she would exclaim, "Call around and I'll introduce you to my youngest sister."—Detroit Tribune.

It Did Seem Strange.

Excited Lady (on the beach)—Why isn't something done for that ship in distress? Why don't some of you— Coast Guard (hurriedly)—We have sent the crew a line to come ashore, mum. Excited Lady—Good gracious! Were they waiting for a formal invitation?—New York Observer.

If the Earth Was Frozen.

If this globe were cooled down to 200 degrees below the zero of centigrade it would be covered with a sea of liquefied gas thirty-five feet deep, of which about seven feet would be liquid oxygen.—London Spectator.

The boa and its allies are entirely confined to America, Australia and the tropical Pacific islands. The pythons, on the other hand, are mostly from the Old World.

In Persia the umbrella was of ancient royal distinction. In Hindostan the title of "chattrapati" signifies "lord of the umbrella, or shade of state."

There are about 55,000 tons of soot recovered from the chimneys of London every year, which yield an annual revenue of nearly $225,000.

There was snow in many parts of Iowa and Illinois on May 11, 1878, and again as late as May 23, 1899.
